By returning the paper to the publisher marked "Refused," postmasters will do us a great favor, besides doing their duty under the law. We are induced to say this by having a copy of the Gazette returned to us from New Salem, the subscriber owing us for over three years subscription. During this time he informs us that he has not taken the paper from the office, and we learn that a former Postmaster sold the paper and pocketed the money.

It may be a good joke to cheat the publisher, but as the boys say, we don't see it. It's fun to you, boys, as the frogs said, but its death to us. We desire to make a statement now which few persons can ever be induced to be-

DEATH OF LIEUT, LINVILLE. Lieut. Francis W. M. Linville, of Co. C, 46th Regiment O. V. I., died of flux, at Messenger's Ford on the Big Black River, Mississippi. His remains were accompanied by Capt. Wiseman to his home at New Salem, in this county, where he was buried on the 13th inst. by the Masonic Order, of which he was a member in high standing.

Lieut. Linville was an officer of mark. ed courage and great endurance, and distinguisued himself in the fight at Jackson. He was among the first volunteers in Capt. Stinchcomb's Co. in the 3 months service, after the termination of which he assisted Capt. Wiseman in raising Co. C, of the 46th. His subject rather abruptly-and bringing brother soldiers say that he was a faith- down the forefinger of his right hand ful officer and did his whole duty.
